The Bookmarks feature in most PDF viewers is helpful in finding specific variables. This sample entry explains the data elements within this codebook.

Q#[1,2]   Variable Title (Answer Option[3])

Name: Variable name

Label: Variable label (usually a truncated version of the question text)

Data Type[4]:   Numeric, string, binary, date, or categorical

English Survey Q   Question as it appears on the English version of the OPPS survey? (Answer option[3])

Spanish Survey Q   Question as it appears on the Spanish version of the OPPS survey? (Answer option[3])

Value[5]	Value Label
1	Category 1
2	Category 2
3	Category 3
4	Category 4

Note: Notes provide guidance on this variable. Survey questions are occasionally updated to include additional answer options, gather additional details, or combine questions for overall survey length. Some variables have been updated and are no longer in use, but their data is kept for analysis.

[1] When present, this question number refers to the question numbering on the paper reference version of the OPPS survey. Variables automatically generated by the data entry systems are not numbered.

[2] Question number suffix conventions using Question 1 (Q1) as examples:

- Q1A or Q1A1 would be a separate follow-up question after Q1.
- Q1.1 would be a binary (numeric) variable derived from the first option in Q1 (mainly used for Select All That Apply questions).
- Q1OLD would indicate this version of Q1 is no longer in use.
- Q1V2 would be the second version of Q1, currently in use if no OLD suffix (no question has 22 follow-up questions so V# is always version control).
- Q1TXT would be the text response to the Other, please specify option in Q1.
- Q1BL / Q1FU would indicate the slightly different versions of a question as asked on the baseline survey vs all follow-up surveys.
- Suffixes may be combined. Q1C.3OLD would be the binary (numeric) variable, no longer in use, derived from the third option in Q1C, which is a separate follow-up question to Q1.

[3] In the case of a binary variable derived from multi-select questions, the answer option that feeds that variable will be indicated in parentheses after the variable title and survey question texts.

[4] Date, binary, and categorical variables are numeric. The distinction is provided for quick understanding of the variable structure.

[5] In addition to any stated categories, all variables may take specific missing values:

- .c is system-missing due a change in the survey (i.e., question was not asked during that survey administration).
- .s is system-missing due to a skip pattern on the survey (i.e., question was not shown because a prior question was answered no).

Table 1 – Opportunity Passport® Participant Survey (OPPS)

The Jim Casey Youth Opportunities Initiative works to ensure that all young people ages 14 to 26 with foster care experience have the resources, opportunities, and relationships they need to thrive in young adulthood.

The Opportunity Passport Participant Survey (OPPS) collects information from young people at program entry and then twice a year across the Jim Casey Initiative sites. Baseline surveys taken January to June have first follow-up in October. Baseline surveys taken July to December have first follow-up in April.

OPPS contains a wide array of information on young people with foster care experience, including demographics, parenting, foster care history, justice system involvement if applicable, and young adult outcomes (e.g., education, employment, physical and mental health, and housing), as well as youth engagement, permanent relationships, financial capability, and social capital. In 2020, questions were added to understand technology and internet access; justice system involvement; and effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. Data are available from 2009 to present year, and thousands of young people have taken the survey to date.

Historically, this data has been used by Jim Casey Initiative national and site staff to track performance and implement continuous quality improvement in both policy and practice arenas. Beginning in 2020, an informed consent process was approved for addition to the survey. Now young people ages 18 and older can consent to share their data with the larger research audience. As part of the informed consent process, while young people consent to share all their de-identified administrative data, they have three options for sharing their survey date: only surveys taken prior to that date, only surveys taken on and after that date, or all surveys taken in the past and future. Around 71% of all eligible young people who have taken a survey since the consent process rolled out have given consent. Of young people who gave consent, 8% consent to share only past survey data, 14% consent to share only future survey data, and 78% consent to share all survey data.

New participant data is added to these files every six months as new young people give consent to share data and as consenting young people take additional surveys. Data releases will occur every May and November. This codebook will be updated with each data release to reflect any changes since the last release.

Note: To protect participant privacy, certain data elements will be de-identified through masking or aggregation. The codebook already notes some of this masking, and any additional changes will be indicated with the delivered data table(s).

Tables 2.1-2.9 – Opportunity Passport Data System (OPDS)

The Opportunity Passport Data System (OPDS) is designed to allow sites to record youth-level information on site administrative activities, program enrollment, participant characteristics, financial literacy education, financial goal setting, money management, and asset purchasing behavior. This data is contained in 9 tables, arranged long (one participant has many entries) where multiple entries are possible. A description of the 9 OPDS data tables follows:

o   Table 2.1 OPDS Participant – demographic information and linking ID variables

o   Table 2.2 OPDS PartLiving – living arrangement information

o   Table 2.3 OPDS PartBankInfo – banking status and current asset purchase goal

o   Table 2.4 OPDS PartGoalHistory – previous asset purchase goals

o   Table 2.5 OPDS PartStatus – current Opportunity Passport status

o   Table 2.6 OPDS PartStatusHistory – previous Opportunity Passport statuses

o   Table 2.7 OPDS PartFinModule – completed financial education modules

o   Table 2.8 OPDS PartAssetTrain – completed asset specific training

o   Table 2.9 OPDS PartAssetPurchase – completed asset purchases

Note: To protect participant privacy, some variables are fully masked. Not all fields are required, so data elements have large variance in number of missing observations. The frequency of updates to this administrative data in the live system depends on each Initiative site's specific practices.
